Ever since the mid-20th century, there have been attempts to create a unified orthography (standard script) for the Balochi language. The development of written Balochi has mainly taken place in Pakistan, where there have been advocates of both the Arabic and Roman scripts. Most literature, of course has been written in Arabic script, but even here diverging systems have been used. Different writers and language developers have advocated different orthographic systems and some of the more prolific writers have also employed different systems over time.
